The World is Full of Beauty.

- There is a voice within me, And it has so sweet a voice, That its soft lispings win me,
- Till tears start to mine eyes, Deep from my soul it springeth.
- Like hidden melody;
- And evermore it singeth
- This song of songs to me, This world is full of beauty,
- As other worlds above : And if we did our duty,
- It might be full of love ! If faith and loving kindness Passed coin 'twixt heart and heart,
- Old Bigotry's dark blindness And Malice would depart.
- If men were more forgiving, Were kind words oftener spoken,
- Instead of scorn so grieving, There would be few hearts broken. When Plenty round is smiling,
- Why wakes this cry for brend? Why are crushed millions tolling. Gaunt-clothed in rags-unfed?
- The sunny hills and valleys Blush ripe with fruit and grain,
- But the lordling of the palace Still robs his fellow men. O God ! what hosts are trampled
- Amidst this press for gold, What noble hearts are sapped of life,
- What spirits lose their hold ! And yet upon this God-blessed earth There's room for every one:
- Ungarner'd food still ripens To waste-rot in the sun ;
- For this world is full of beauty, As other worlds above,
- And if we did our duty, It might be full of love !
- Let the law of bloodshed perish. Wars, gore, and glory, splendor-
- And men will tearn to cherish Feelings more kind and tender. Were we true to each other.
- We'd vanquish Hate and Crime, And clasp the hand of brother
- In any land or clime : If gold were not an idol,
- Were mind and merit worth, Oh! there would be a bridal Betwixt high heaven and earth !
- Were truth an uttered language, Angels might talk with men.
- And God-illumined earth should see The golden age again ;
- For the leaf-tongues of the forest-The flower-lips of the sod-The birds that hymn their raptures
- Into the ear of God-And the sweet wind that bringeth
- The music of the sea, Have each a voice that singeth
- This song of songs to me : This world is full of beauty,
- As other worlds above, And if we did our duty, It might be full of love.

VARIETY.

The surest way to get rid of a bad habit is by one There is a self love that would break a world to fieces to make a stool to sit on. A talkative man neither hears nor is heard. He m't listen to others, nor they to him.

An artist is not so strong as a horse, but he can fraw a larger object. The pebbles in our path weary us, and make us hot-sore more than the rocks, which only require a told effort to surmount. There are two reasons why we don't trust a man : one because we don't know him, and the other be-

It is a great convenience for a doctor to have two Misats in the same street, so that he can kill two lul an offer in her life. "I haven't another word to say, sir-never dislite with fools !" " No," was the reply, " you are My sure to agree with them."

The road ambition travels is often too parrow for findship, too crooked for love, too rugged for hon-My, and too dark for science.

It is impossible to make people understand their porance; for it requires knowledge to perceive it; al therefore he that can perceive it hath it not. What madness is it for a man to starve himself to thrich his heir, and so turn a friend into an enemy; at his joy at your death will be in proportion to

Wat you leave him. If you would relish your food, labor for it; if you wald enjoy your raiment, pay for it before you wear it if you would sleep soundly, take a clear conscience
